Why Did God Create Satan. God did not create Lucifer as evil but allowed the potential for sin. While God cannot commit sin, He doesn't take it away from those who do. When Lucifer chose to rebel, he instantly became the author of sin. Evil is the result of a free-will choice by Lucifer. Satan and sin don't foil God's divine purposes.

Why Did God Create Satan - God - AllAboutGOD.com

Answer: Lucifer was created by God, as were all the other angels (Ephesians 3:9). Lucifer was a cherub, or angel. One covering angel stands on the left side of God's throne and another on the right (Psalm 99:1). Lucifer was one of these highly exalted angels and was a leader.

God did not create Lucifer as the devil; He created him good (Genesis 1:31). In trying to understand why God created Satan, knowing he would rebel, we should also consider the following facts: 1) Lucifer had a good and perfect purpose before his fall. Lucifer's rebellion does not change God's original intent from something good to something bad.

If God knew that Satan would rebel, why did He create him?

God did not pass the buck to Satan or Job's 'free will'. Let us go back to Job chapter one, and notice how God manipulates the Adversary to accomplish His purpose in Job. It is the Lord who draws Satan's attention to Job. Satan never asks God first for permission to prove Job.
